

"Our community and taxpayers win, we send the right message to our students, the environment wins, and children far, far away get the biggest benefit of all. It's not often that a single project can do so much good."

Donna Woodcock, Principal, Greenfield (MA) High School

IRN 2014 Surplus Reuse Program Summary

Positive Mission

IRN has a simple mission: Keep usable furniture and equipment out of the landfill, by matching surplus furnishings from organizations that no longer need them, with communities that need them desperately, and do it at less cost than throwing surplus away.

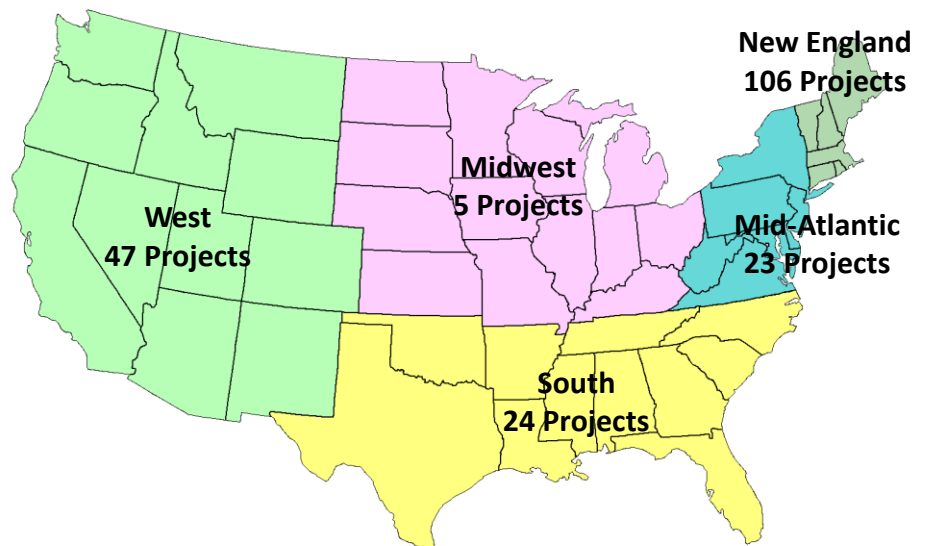

Nationwide Capabilities

We work nationwide. In 2014 we completed 207 projects for nearly 150 organizations in 24 states.

This brings to nearly 2,000 the total number of projects IRN has completed since we established the Surplus Reuse Program in 2002. That's more than 60 Million pounds kept out of the landfill, and still being used.

No other organization has remotely comparable qualifications or experience.

IRN Surplus Asset Reuse Projects, 2014

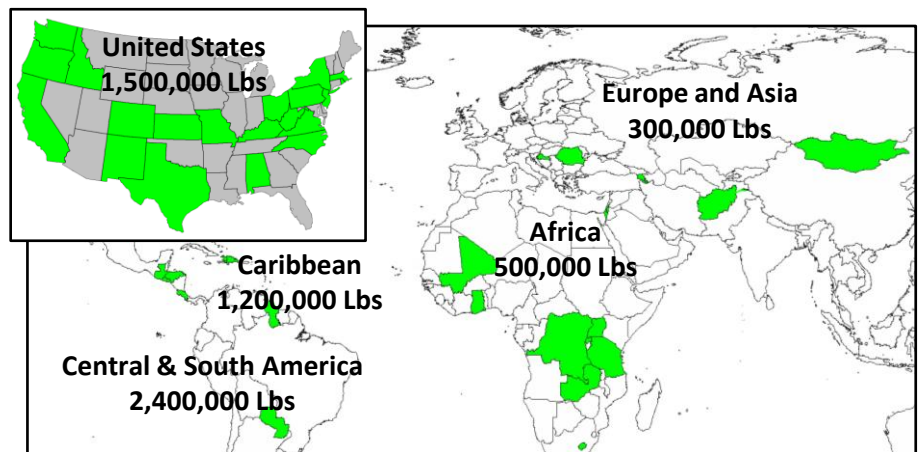

Worldwide Impact

In 2014 IRN worked with 29 different charitable organizations active on five continents and the Caribbean.

Furniture and equipment were provided to 85 separate relief and development projects, including 51 locations in 20 states in the U.S., plus 34 locations in 23 countries worldwide.

IRN Surplus Reuse Recipients, 2014

Broad Capacity

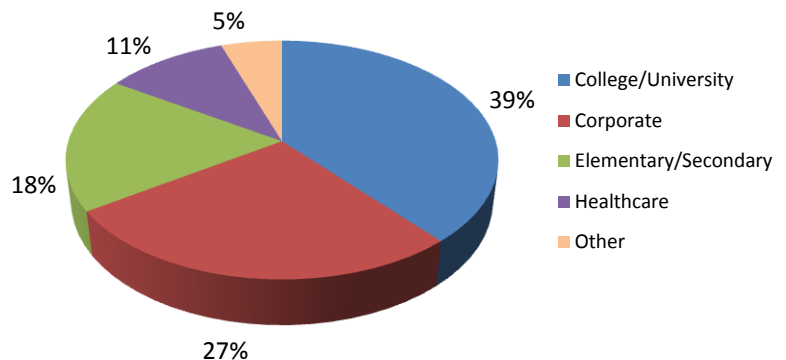

If you can imagine someone using it again, we'll find someone to use it.

IRN is able to find a home for any and all kinds of furniture and equipment:

Residential. Classrooms. Laboratories. Kitchens. Dining rooms. Doctors' offices. Patient rooms. Office furniture. Reception furnishings.

We handle projects as small as a few dozen desks and chairs, as large as three dozen tractor-trailers packed floor-to-ceiling.

IRN Projects by Type of Organization, 2014

2014 – A Sample

Citigroup, San Francisco. Inventory: 494 chairs filling two tractor-trailers and one box van. Destination: Democratic Republic of the Congo; Low income assistance, Fresno CA.

Greenfield High School, MA. Inventory: 1,130 pieces including classroom, science lab, library, administrative furnishings filling seven tractor trailers. Destination: Zambia (southern Africa).

The Art Institute of Philadelphia. Inventory: 560 dormitory room sets plus additional living, dining, & administrative furnishings filling 24 tractor-trailers. Destination: Nicaragua, Jamaica.

For case studies, program information, and questions about IRN services:

Web: www.irnsurplus.com

Email: info@irnsurplus.com

Phone: 866-229-1962